35 Killed in East German Train Crash

40 Others Hurt
In State's Worst
Wreck Since War

BERLIN (AP) — A freight train crashed into a passenger train in Communist East Germany today, killing 35 persons and seriously injuring 40 others, the East German Radio announced.

It was the worst East German railway disaster since World War II.

The crash occurred near the Bornitz railroad station in Saxony Province, the broadcast said.

The radio said doctors from nearby hospitals, Communist people's police and railroad officials sped to the disaster scene.

The East German broadcast said the two engines of the freight completely smashed one passenger coach and derailed several others.

"Salvage crews found the bodies of 35 persons killed in the crash," the broadcast said.

"Forty others who were seriously injured were given first aid immediately and were then rushed to nearby hospitals."

Grocer Convicted in Death of 6 in Freeway Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wealthy wholesale grocer Victor De Casaus has been convicted of six counts of manslaughter in connection with a tragic accident on the San Bernardino freeway Sept. 26.

A superior court jury yesterday found the 32-year-old grocer guilty of causing the accident that claimed six lives, but acquitted him of drunk driving.

Probation and sentencing was set March 22. De Casaus remained free on $17,500 bail.

City Protests Use of Name

City manager Robert W. Peterson has written to the California Real Estate Commissioner asking that some direction be made from that office regarding subdivisions not within Palm Springs city limits who use the name Palm Springs in their titles for advertising purposes.

At direction of city council, Peterson told commissioner D. D. Watson by letter that a number of subdivisions soliciting buyers mainly from the Los Angeles area attach "Palm Springs" to the titles of their subdivisions.

Subdivisions east of the Village near Ramon Road were cited, among others.

Peterson's letter asked advice as to legal action, and where the action could originate.

Council members said the practice was unfair to legitimately resided Palm Springs real estate operators.

NOT MUCH TO TALK ABOUT

The insurance man went to the hospital to see Dynamite Dan. He wanted a full account of the mine explosion; wanted all the details—

"Well, sir," said Dan, "It was like this: you see, I was standing with me back to the mine. All of a sudden I hear a hell of a noise; then, sir, this yellow headed nurse, she says to me, 'Set up an' try to take this.'"

Scientist Waits for Mouse's Love Affair with Boa to End in One Gulp

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A white mouse has developed an infatuation for the snake that was supposed to gobble it up.

The reptile, a boa constrictor named Conga, and the mouse, so far unnamed, are carrying on their affair in a cage at the Boise Junior College science laboratory.

The mouse was put in the cage a week ago as a meal for Conga. But the snake wasn't hungry. And the mouse is having a ball. It frolics about the snake, runs over its coiled body and kisses it on the head. The boa just sticks out its tongue.

Dr. Donald Obee, director of the college's Live Science division, says the snake is not very active because he's shedding his skin. Conga hasn't eaten for six weeks.

"When he sheds his skin he also sheds the lining of his eyes and is blind for awhile," Obee says. "This is enough to slow down one's appetite."

Obee thinks the love affair will end in one gulp when Conga gets back to normal.

Killer for Canned Meat Convicted

EL CENTRO (UP)—Paul Krube, a 17-year-old escapee from Green Bay, Wis., reformatory, has been convicted of murdering two Mexican farm workers for two cans of meat.

The youth was convicted yesterday on two counts of first-degree murder but under California law persons under 18 years of age cannot receive the death penalty. Krube escaped from the Wisconsin Reformatory last Nov. 27 while serving a sentence for robbery.

The escapee was captured by a posse five days after he shot Anacleto Romero and Angel Renteria with a deer rifle last Dec. 1 at a work camp cabin near here. Krube, an Air Force deserter, took only two cans of meat from the cabin.

New Reservoir to be Completed Here in 3 Weeks

A new reservoir, which will increase the storage of Palm Springs water to a total of four and one half million gallons, is now under construction and scheduled for completion within the next three weeks.

The new addition, costing approximately $21,000, will connect with the present reservoir in Chino Canyon and bring the capacity of both Chino Canyon reservoirs to one-half million storage gallons.

With Palm Springs using a total of one and a half billion gallons of water a year, and this increasing monthly, Paul Payne, engineer for Palm Springs Water Company, said that his company wanted to "not just keep up with the growth, but keep ahead."

Scheduled also for completion this year is the opening of a new well, and increasing of pumping facilities on other wells to bring the supplement water supply capacity to 1100 gallons a minute.

The new reservoir in Chino Canyon is located at the west boundary of little Tuscany, and will have a capacity of 300,000 gallons. The unit is fed from Chino Creek. A new automatic reservoir pump will be installed as well as booster pumps on the main water lines.

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (UP)—Wreckage of an Air Force T33 jet trainer, missing since last Sunday, was found on the west slope of Mount St. Helena yesterday.

The Air Force said both occupants were dead. They were identified as Lt. Wesley F. Bigelow of Laredo, Tex., the pilot, and Lt. William H. Johnson of Allentown, Pa.

The plane was on flight from Hamilton Air Force Base, via Phoenix, Ariz. when it vanished.

Burke Hints Navy Ships Bear A-Arms

"Most Destructive
Weapons Are Being Installed"

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said today more and more of "the most powerful, most destructive weapons of the age" are being installed on U.S. ships.

Burke, in a speech prepared for delivery at the Citadel, also said the United States has "many types of atomic bombs" now and Navy planes "can carry most of them."

Burke's statement about installation of weapons on U.S. ships appeared to be an obvious reference to nuclear weapons. Asked by reporters to elaborate, Burke said "The capability to deliver these weapons is being installed on board ships."

Reporters asked whether his remark meant nuclear warheads were "not necessarily" carried in the ships. Burke replied, "That's right."

The Russian navy, Burke said, is now the second largest in the world and is improving fast. But while the threat to U.S. control of the seas is growing "we are determined to stay ahead."

Navy Ship Sent to Hunt Raft Storms Crippled

HONOLULU (AP) — The Navy has dispatched the cargo ship Greenville Victory to search for the raft Cantuta, reported severely damaged by storms about 1000 miles west of the Galapagos Islands.

Aboard the balsa raft were four men and one woman who set out from Lima, Peru, about six weeks ago in an attempt to drift to the South Seas along the course of the Kon-Tiki expedition.

The Navy said the latest distress messages from the raft reported the woman was ill and that the raft was in bad condition.

Reds Order 'New Look' in Farming

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today announced a "new look" agricultural program utilizing American farming methods and fitting crop production to local conditions.

The program was announced by Minister of Agriculture Vladimir Matskevich, who made a tour of U.S. Middle West farm areas last year.

Matskevich told the Soviet Communist Party Congress that several American farm methods and techniques will be introduced to Soviet agriculture.

He said experimental research stations had been ordered for every Soviet agricultural area. They will study and exploit the farming possibilities peculiar to each region.

The experimental stations were one of the ideas he picked up on his trip to the United States.

In the past, Soviet agricultural practice has been directed from Moscow, which imposed a general production plan.

Under the old system, for example, areas best suited for sugar beet production were forced to raise wheat or tobacco.

Matskevich also told the congress that steps would be taken to profit from American seedling practices in developing hybrid corn.

VILLAGE LEADERS START URGENT CANVASS-MONDAY FOR CHEST GOAL

Desperate efforts to bring the Palm Springs Community Chest funds campaign up to its $50,000 goal will start Monday.

The desperation note was voiced at the home of David Margolis before a group of civic leaders yesterday afternoon with 12 persons present. Twice that number had been invited.

The "last mile" drive to start Monday will see solicitor teams appealing to business and professional men to contribute.

"Contribute to the Chest so its six local agencies may continue to operate the next 12 months," was the theme urged by Chest president Margolis.

The leaders present were startled to hear from Margolis that of the 13,000 to 15,000 estimated population of Palm Springs and the more than 60,000 that live in the area, only 850 persons have contributed to the Chest to bring collections to approximately $35,000.

If the "business-to-business" solicitation fails a house-to-house canvass will be unavoidable, he added.

Meanwhile Northend Norman and Southside Sam are continuing their tour of Village hotels for the drive.

To date, they have covered about 80 hotels and contributions have been good, according to Stanley Rosin, who is in charge of the project.

The two collectors are dummies, and are taken by each hotel owner to a neighboring hotel as soon as a contribution is made.

Hotel Sign Called Subterfuge to Dodge Ordinance

City attorney Jerry Bunker today said the fictitious name "Hotel 650" is an obvious subterfuge by the hotel owner at 2525 North Palm Canyon Drive, to bypass the city ordinance outlawing signs displaying rates.

The owner, J. D. Carlin, was the defendant in a recent suit brought by the city which charged he violated the ordinance when he erected a sign showing "$6.50 for 2" at right angles to Palm Canyon Drive.

The ordinance was judged unconstitutional, and Bunker revised it, and city council enacted the amended version. Carlin amended the sign.

A sign showing "El Tram" has been erected for some time, naming the hotel as El Tram Inn.

With the passage of the later ordinance, the El Tram sign was permitted by the city as advertisement of the El Tram Cigarette Service, a vending machine business operated by Carlin. The Hotel 650 was advertised as a fictitious name, and a city permit reportedly issued to allow the sign.

Bunker said today if the numbers are of a different size, he will advise the city, and recommend action against Carlin.

He said he believes the 6 to be large, and the 50 to be small, denoting a rate advertisement. If such is the case, Bunker said, he will recommend the city council file suit.

Reaches for Coat and Sends 18 on Train to Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Investigators said today an unidentified passenger who reached for his coat and accidentally tripped an emergency airbrake caused the "stone wall" stop that sent 18 Boston and Maine Railroad passengers to a hospital Friday night.

Nearly 1000 persons were aboard the train en route to Boston from Worcester to see an Ice Follies show at Boston Garden when the train came to a jolting halt about a mile from North Station.

Mrs. Bunker Bigelow is fund drive chairman, Tom Kieley is vice chairman, and Ginny Simms is honorary chairman.

Fred Ingram is in charge of advance gifts, and letters have already been mailed to many residents. Returns have started to come in, and first reports are satisfactory, according to Ingram.

Captains for the 15 residential areas are: Miss Hazel Gross, L. B. Jones, William Rechin, and Mesdames Philip Zanville, Al Normandin, Mardell Bullock, James Kopecky, Tony Biavaschi, Jeanette Lippincott, Arthur Langston, A. L. Sullivan, Donald Sorum, Earle Strebe, Arthur Greenfield, Sam Janis and S. S. Moore.

Mrs. Kettmann, residential chairman, told the chairmen at the meeting that if possible, a complete canvass of the home areas be made the first day, following the kick-off breakfast.

Mrs. Bigelow stressed the importance of this year's drive, saying that nearly $20 million was spent by the Red Cross for disaster relief last year, including $8 million in California alone.

Illinois Hit Hardest of Three States

By UNITED PRESS

Tornadoes ripped portions of a dozen communities in three central states early today, striking the heaviest blow at Illinois, and the Midwest and Southwest reported eight dead in violent windstorms.

St. Clair County, just across the Mississippi from the St. Louis, Mo., area reported a half-dozen dead in a tornado early today.

An Oklahoman died when an oil rig blew over late last night, and another Oklahoman blinded by dust died when he drove his car into the rear of a truck on a Texas road yesterday.

More than 30 persons were injured in the windstorms.

NORTH of the tornado belt, ice-laden highways piled up a toll of accidents. The storm center which moved through Missouri, Illinois and Indiana went on up the Ohio Valley, bringing winds recorded up to 97 miles an hour.

A wet snowstorm packed highways in the suburban belt around Chicago, bringing warnings of bad driving conditions. Many Michigan motorists found their second consecutive day of icy driving, and the Motor State listed six dead in ice-caused accidents on roads or sidewalks Friday.

THE ST. CLAIR tornado struck about 2 a.m. EST. As the winds built up, they had knocked off tree limbs and tangled wires in St. Louis County across the Mississippi.

Three tornadoes were reported in Indiana by state police, but no casualties were reported.

The Illinois tornado, with damage estimated by police at "millions of dollars," apparently was part of a storm area that created high winds and thunderstorms generally over the Missouri and Southern Illinois area. Thunderstorms also hit scattered areas in the Ohio Valley and the lower Great Lakes region.

WARNINGS of severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes today for all of Southern Illinois and Indiana and for Western and Northern Kentucky and Eastern and Southern Ohio were issued by the Weather Bureau.

The skipping tornado in St. Clair County, Ill., just across the Mississippi River from St. Louis, Mo., killed at least six persons. Eight others were reported injured.

THREE OF the dead, a 4-year-old boy and an elderly couple, lived at Imbs Station. The other three victims and the injured were casualties at Summerfield, Ill., where damage was reported heaviest of the area.

Rescue teams from Scott Air Force Base, labor unions, police and sheriff's departments and civil defense were called to duty, but downed wires and uprooted trees blocked their way.

BOZO THE TRAMP CLOWN, who has moved to Palm Springs and who will make his first appearance at the Road Races Sunday, was once one of Mickey Finn's Boys — while Finn was with the Los Angeles Police force.

BOZO THE CLOWN WAS ONE OF FINN'S BOYS

Bozo the Tramp Clown has come to town, and will make his first appearance locally Sunday at the Palm Springs Road Races.

Bozo, Steve Granger, was one of Mickey Finn's Boys — when Mickey was a member of the Los Angeles Police Force — and is an ardent supporter of his youth program now under way in the San Jacinto Mountains.

For five years, from 1945 to 1950, he was with Finn, and then entered service. After being discharged he went into show business as a clown, appearing mainly in the eastern and midwestern states.

Among places he has appeared are Phoenix, St. Louis, Prescott, Flagstaff and Williams, mainly with rodeos. He has specialized in children's parties and special events too, contributing much time for charities and hospitals.

He has seen Finn since arriving here, and said that the latter is expertly continuing his program of stopping delinquency among boys.

"Instead of having them run from the law, he is giving them a chance to make good," was his comment. "The same chance he gave me," he added.

Now, my little boys and girls, I'd like to hear from those of you who care with any further criticism you may have regarding our telephone service as it is today in Palm Springs.

Personally I know it has been improved to a great extent, but there are people in this community who would like to know how YOU all feel about the service today.

Existing trunks have been changed around to ease the load. New trunks have been added and intercepting plant equipment has and is being installed. I was thrilled today to pick up the telephone and to hear a recorded message informing me that I had made a mistake in dialing. It really was a thrill. And that hard working Bill Nash is as tickled with the new fangled things going

Hupnapper Fined $50, Placed on Year's Probation

A 19-year-old marine, stationed at 29 Palms, yesterday pleaded guilty here to stealing hubcaps in Desert Hot Springs last week and was fined $50. He was then returned to his base.

The defendant was sentenced to 10 days in county jail in Judge Eugene Theriault's Palm Springs Judicial District Court, and the sentence was suspended provided he commit no crime for one year and pay a $50 fine.

According to sheriff's deputies Carroll Vogelaar and Paul Lewis, Ericson and another lad were returning to their base last week, and stopped off to steal two hubcaps, worth more than $50.

One of the boys was arrested, and is now serving a sentence in Riverside County jail. He informed on Ericson, and the two deputies questioned Ericson at the base until his story of innocence became perforated with lies.

Officers added that one way hubcap thefts could be controlled to a great extent would be to ask owners to identify them with individual marks.

Warren Dislikes Implication of Superintendent

By THELMA GOODSPEED

RIVERSIDE — Ray W. Johnson, superintendent of county schools, was censured this week by Supervisor Roman Warren for a paragraph in an article which appeared with his signature in the February issue of the Public Education Bulletin.

The paragraph read as follows: "This is an election year and a lot will be said by faint-hearted politicians about saving taxes 'if I am elected.' In some instances this is demagoguery, and Riverside county has had its share. We in education can help change this pattern if we try. Each one will have to do his part. The turtle, it has been pointed out, would never get anywhere if he didn't stick out his neck."

Warren said he resents Johnson's implication of politics. "He has said he would vigorously oppose reelection of supervisors unless requests he has made to this board were granted," said Warren. "I do not think it right for a county superintendent of schools to bring politics into educational matters." Warren is expected to seek reelection in the 1957 spring primary election.

Rotary Club to Be Honored

Cathedral City Rotary Club will be honored on Monday, at Wonder Palms Hotel, by having Rotary International Vice President Ollie Oberg of Sydney, Australia, as its first speaker. All Rotarians who are visiting on the Desert are welcome to come and hear him.

Last week the Cathedral City Club closed its charter member list and now is on its way to become a new Rotary Club.

Tri-County Cost Agreement Set

A tri-county agreement involving Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino counties, for the purpose of providing for legislative representation before Congress or Legislature or committees thereof, with costs to be divided between the three counties was approved by the supervisors this week.

"It's just a cooperative move to share expenses," said Supervisor Anderson.

Supervisor Warren recalled an incident when each of the three counties sent its own representative. "One representative would have been sufficient to serve all three counties," he said.

Under the agreement appointments of representatives will be made by resolution of the board of supervisors of each county. Appointees will be members of the boards, officers or employees of one of the three counties, or officers or employees of districts over which the boards are the governing body.

Begole Asked to Study School Library Service

County Administrative Officer Clay Begole was instructed by the supervisors this week to continue his study on the proposal by County Superintendent of Schools Ray W. Johnson to transfer school library services to his office, between now and budget time when it will be considered.

Supervisor Berkey said that after canvassing his district he became convinced the move would be a wise one for his district. Supervisor McCall said he is no longer strongly against the proposed change, but would oppose any action pending election of a new Board of Education in June.

Supervisor Jones expressed the opinion that transfer of the library service to the offices of the schools superintendent might give better service. "I'm not opposed to it," he declared, "and might favor it at next budget time. It seems to be a state-wide trend. However, I'm against taking action on it at this time of year."

"I have found no proof that services would be increased by the move," said Supervisor Warren, "and don't see how I can go along with Mr. Johnson's proposal."

Tramvue Ranch Trailer Park Sold for $105,000

NORTH PALM SPRINGS—Sale of Tramvue Ranch trailer park here for $105,000, was announced this week by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Eaton.

Purchasers were Mr. and Mrs. William S. Norman of Bellflower. Sixty-four acres of property were involved in the transaction. The Eatons retained one acre of their holdings, on which they plan to build a home.

Structures on the property include a recreation hall, utility room and swimming pool, as well as the trailer installations.

The park can accommodate 53 trailers at present, and has potential space for another 40, according to Mrs. Eaton.

The Eatons purchased the acreage approximately eight years ago, and have been operating the trailer park for the past three years.

Eaton is a retired builder of apartment houses and motels in Long Beach and throughout Southern California. The Eatons have no business plans at present, Mrs. Eaton said yesterday.

The new owners of Tramvue Ranch will take over April 1.

B-Bar-H Ranch to be Changed to Private Club

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Conversion of historic B-Bar-H Ranch into a private club, on a membership basis only, was announced this week.

Pointing out that the fortunes of the ranch, which did much to put DHS on the map, and the community of Desert Hot Springs are intimately linked, the announcement said that the ranch ownership's action was partly motivated by recognition of the necessity for a country club operation in this area.

Complimentary memberships, at a minimum rate, are to be extended to DHS community leaders.

At the same time, a lavish program of improvements was announced. Architects are now drawing plans for a new cocktail lounge, to occupy the site of the present lobby. The new lounge will take the form of a sunken bar, seating 60 persons.

Construction will begin as soon as architect's plans are completed probably around May 1.

Why People Live Longer

There is one place in Palm Springs about which the people know very little but of which they still are very proud. They never want to go there and, if they do, are always glad when they can leave. It is open 24 hours of the day and every day of the year. They have rooms, serve meals and provide room service and operate strictly on the American plan.

I am speaking, of course, of the Desert Hospital. Having just spent a week there, let me give you some first hand information about this place where miracles are performed in our midst almost every day, where human life is the product and the goal is to help people live longer.

This fine hospital — which is one of the community's greatest assets — has been made possible through the foresightedness of a group of civic-minded citizens who started the movement for a hospital here about ten years ago, and by those who carried the project on to the new building that was opened in October, 1951. As most residents recall, the Community Hospital was opened in two of the old government hospital buildings in 1945 and its deficit of about $30,000 a year was included in Palm Springs Community Chest annual campaign.

Too many people take a hospital for granted — expecting the facility to be there to help protect their lives when emergency or serious illness strikes — like they have learned to expect protection of their safety and property by the police and fire departments. It has taken years of personal effort and sacrifice on the part of a lot of people to bring about this fine hospital which costs the taxpayers very little. It is a monument to these unselfish workers and a blessing to all the people.

Right now the hospital is badly overcrowded. Although the capacity is supposed to be only 32 beds, ten more patients are being accommodated by doubling up in some rooms and putting beds in the halls. It is working a hardship on the entire staff — but all are carrying on valiantly. They are all looking forward to the building of the new wing which gets underway this summer and increases the capacity to 62 beds — as well as doubling the X-Ray and Laboratory facilities and providing a new solarium for visitors and a consultation room for doctors. Only then will the institution be able to meet the needs of the Desert Hospital District — which includes the area to Desert Hot Springs and Palm Desert.

The five board members who contribute their time for operation of The Desert Hospital are Kenneth Kirk, president; Florian Boyd, Ed Hawkins and Dr. William Aikin of Palm Springs, and Cliff Badin of Desert Hot Springs. Under the management of Robert Henwood, the hospital has been able to render an excellent service to patients and at the same time reduce the annual deficit from about $30,000 to less than $8,000 — and will continue this trend even with the expanded facilities. It was pointed out in the Wall Street Journal the other day that 95 per cent of all hospitals in the U.S. operate at a loss. In this light, the current operating statement is all the more remarkable.

But it was the friendly and efficient service of the 54 staff members that impressed me most and made my stay at the hospital much easier and pleasanter than I had believed it could be. The nurses under the competent direction of Mrs. Charlotte Welles are patient and courteous. The food prepared under the direction of Mrs. Cora Griffin is the best I have ever eaten in a hospital anywhere — and I've been in quite a few. Today I feel grateful indeed for such a fine hospital here in Palm Springs — and for the fine people who staff it.

A modern hospital is the end point of all the years of medical research — of the new techniques in surgery and medical discoveries. Facilities must be provided to administer the new drugs and techniques — or we could not take advantage of them here in Palm Springs. Having them as we do we will make it possible for more people to live longer.

Easter Vacation Time
(Newport Harbor News-Press)

We are informed that relatively little will be done in Newport Beach this year by the city council to control Easter holiday period activities of young vacationists. The council, recently reversed by a Superior Court ruling which found the city ordinance on housing inspection when overcrowded conditions threatened unconstitutional, this spring apparently is adopting a wait-and-see attitude.

This means the landlords who last year were prevented from renting their premises unless they obtained special forms, paid $10 each and agreed to reasonable inspection, this year may rent at will. The city last year was tightly supervised by the police force, which used reserves as well as regulars.

However, the police this year may have a more difficult time if the inland youngsters get the word that no law prevents overcrowding in Newport Beach. Last Easter time the young ones scattered to Palm Springs, Laguna Beach and other spas, leaving considerably fewer in this area than previous years had seen. Last Easter Week time was a much milder, better controlled period than many in years past.

The mayor last year plumped for a family-type Easter holiday in Newport Beach — a time when parents and offspring could enjoy the beauties of this area, get to know each other better and have a good time at the seaside. We think this is a wonderful thought, one we wish our inland parents and children would put into practice.

The city has a difficult problem trying to keep its two or three-week period of youthful infiltration a happy time for visitors and residents alike.

Good chaperonage is one way the young vacationists can be supervised. If you have inland friends with children of an age to come here, you might mention such a plan to them. Everyone will be better off when private families are responsible for their own children rather than juvenile officers and police picking up the loose ends when a prank ends up in something worse.

Kissing Season

(The Lake Arrowhead Mountain News)

With two Democratic presidential hopefuls touring California at the same time early this month, the gages in the Golden State were exposed to more than the usual hazards of being kissed, hazards which infants must face up to every election year. But the candidates also face certain hazards.

In Oakland Adlai Stevenson was the "victim" of a surprising switch when he got kissed without warning. It wasn't a brash youngster getting back at him, nor a beautiful blonde nor a middle-aged matron. Instead it was a white haired old man who puckered up and planted a smack on the Stevenson cheek.

Ah, politics, what weird things are committed in thy name. Anyway, a kiss on the cheek is better than a kick in the pants in any campaign.

Now Look Who's Buying Life

THIS SIDE

By Phat

Since yesterday's atrocity, I haven't the audacity To try for verse today. So let's just skip attempts to rhyme And happily put in the time On what we want to say.

That's because some nasty person called to say you must have pulled a tendon in your brain rhyming "all over" with "Oliver."

HERE GOES a noble resolution. That one which deals with refraining from mentioning the new auto license plates. But people keep calling to report on odd combinations and I now have a long list.

To select a few: A woman said she saw a car punching its way through traffic, in and out. And the license plate started with "AWL."

Another call concerned the shiny new Cadillac with ARK. The only animal in it, the man said, was a wire-haired terrier with his head and paws outside of the front window, yapping blasphemy at passing autos.

Now, the abbreviation for Limited is Ltd. And a train, designated limited, makes few stops. So it seemed very appropriate to me that an automobile which blasted through a pedestrian lane on Indian avenue, causing consternation to two elderly women and their equally elderly escort, bore a license plate starting with LTD.

THE LITTLE MONSTERS were at it again this week. Joe Butler, manager of the Safeway Store here, was riding in the Date Festival parade at Indian and as he passed a group of young Villagers, was greeted with:

"Hurray for Joe Butler! Trade at the name of another local market."

The Fair reminds me of the horrible gag Mr. Fred Weigel is perpetrating on his friends. "Have you heard he isn't going to run?" he asks seriously. "The ticket will be Nixon and Ferris."

And when the innocent victim asks: "And who in the so-and-so is Ferris?" he says: "Oh, he's the big wheel at the Fair."

WHEN I FIRST came to town about 15 years ago, one of the downtown restaurants and bars was operated by Harry Mutascio and known as "Harry's."

It has long since been the popular Dunes cafe but the old memory lingers. For on the sidewalk before the Dunes entrance you can still faintly see, carved into the sidewalk cement, "Harry's."

THE WAY THE HEAT is already being generated in the coming city council election you can forgive the guy who insists on calling it the "councilmanic election."

Today ends National Engineers Week, designed to acquaint and interest young people in the many opportunities in the engineering field.

As a youngster I always wanted to be an engineer. But wound up as a conductor — of a column.

I ASKED THE BOYS in the back room what they would have and they said, eight more lines of type. Your column is short. So we might quote a little quip read the other day: "The reason a fellow hesitates to propose is because two can't live as cheap as once."

Quotes from the News

THOMASVILLE, Ga. — President Eisenhower on his doctor's golf instructions:

"You're going to hear a lot of laughter. My doctor has given me orders that if I don't start laughing instead of cussing when I miss these shots, then he is going to stop me from playing golf."

LONDON — Prime Minister Anthony Eden on the broad areas of agreement between Great Britain and the United States after his conference with President Eisenhower:

"In Europe, which not so long ago was the main cause of anxiety there is no difference of any kind between us."

KHARTOUM, Sudan — A tenant farmer who escaped from the "Black Hole" prison room at Kosti where 190 other farmers suffocated to death:

"After two hours we felt a strong heat. We couldn't breathe. The doors, two small glass windows near the ceiling and the wooden shutters were closed."

"We shouted, cried and banged on the door. We begged the police for water and told them we were suffocating. It was to no avail."

New York — Former President Truman on administration foreign policy in a "give-em-hell" speech: "I believe that the policies of this administration are leading us into a situation of growing danger where the balance of strength may shift strongly against the free world."

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — Coach Taps Gallagher on whether Niagara University will accept a basketball invitation to the National Invitation Tournament:

"Well, we are an institution of higher learning and things like that have to be considered carefully. But we've never turned one down."

NEW YORK — Marilyn Monroe when asked if she planned to continue her studies at the actors studio: "I would like to continue my growth in every way possible."

ALGIERS, Algeria — French Premier Guy Mollet in a broadcast to both the French and Algerian populations that France will stay in Algeria and stamp out terrorism:

"You are afraid of all extremists. I tell you order and justice will be maintained."

NEW YORK — Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, on the "ultimate weapon," the Intercontinental ballistic missile:

"Neither side can contemplate a situation in which either the use or threat to use armed might can result in anything but mutual tragedy."

WASHINGTON — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson on the farm problem:

"Surpluses are smothering farm prices and income. That's why our farm families are not sharing as they should in this nation's record prosperity."

THOMASVILLE, Ga. — Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty on whether Mr. Eisenhower has reached his decision:

"I wouldn't know — and if I do know, I'm not going to tell you. When he is going to make the announcement, he will tell me and I will tell you."

PITTSBURGH — Mrs. Edith R. Phillips of Providence, R.I., on why she has not cashed bonds which matured 10 years ago worth more than $25,000 with interest:

"Pshaw, Pittsburgh's not the only place that wants me to cash my bonds. I get lots of calls. But I'm a busy woman."

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Publisher William Prescott Allen on the sympathy he received from 12 other prisoners after he was thrown into jail for refusing to tell a grand jury where he got his information for an anti-vice crusade:

"They told me they thought it was terrible the way I was thrown in here. They all felt sorry for me and sympathized with me."

That's hard work too but you're not belted by that deadline every day." . . . Errol Flynn, on the other hand, finds TV fascinating and is excited about the new anthology series he'll do in England. EARL WILSON:

Jungle Madness

NEW YORK — Who can remember when jungles were scary places inhabited by beasts? Today the jungles are jammed with TV and movie actors.

"I've just come back from a Mexican jungle," Miss Irish McCalla, the Nebraska and Iowa pin-up beauty who became "Sheena, the jungle woman" of television, told me the other day at that well known New York jungle, the Algonquin. "At one time four companies were shooting pictures in that one jungle."

"Crowded little old jungle, wasn't it?" I asked.

Sheena, who was in her leopard skin outfit, lying on the floor with her head on some phone books, watching TV, said: "One day the Richard Widmark company, 'Run for the Sun,' came over and borrowed our swamp."

"Did you charge 'em rent?" "What's a swamp between friends?" replied Sheena, toying with some spears which didn't look exactly proper in a hotel room. "The Bob Mitchum, Gilbert Roland and Tarzan companies came over and borrowed our trees and lakes. We were very generous with our jungle."

Anyway, you just wouldn't know the old jungle — this one down near Cuernavaca.

"But I thought you were recently using an African jungle," I remarked to Irish.

"A jungle's a jungle," quoth Sheena. "There's nothing like a change of jungle. I was in that Mexican jungle 7 1/2 months. Those people of course thought I was positively fantastic."

"I've always thought so myself," I confessed.

"I mean, they'd never seen a blonde. For weeks they called me their golden goddess. These people of the jungle carried acres of things on their heads. Everything they owned, practically. When the men came to market — the women aren't allowed to go to market — they would just stare and stare."

What with the food not being quite like Hollywood's, and with the ailments one gets in Mexico, Irish lost 11 pounds, but came out of the jungle feeling fit. She had her 3-year-old son there a while, and since he's blond also, he was a little thing. "That spear" and that knife — what are they?" I inquired. "Souvenirs," she said. "I call them my do-it-yourself suicide kit."

THE WEEK-END WINDUP . . .

"DON'T PRINT THAT!" A comic's heart attack was hushed up . . . The authenticity of the marriage of a Jekke case character is being investigated . . . The wife of a famed composer quietly consulted the family lawyer about a divorce — and learned her husband has been inquiring about the same thing.

Steve Allen wrote Audrey and Jayne Meadows' new record, "Dungaree Dan and Chino Sue" . . . Agent Vic Jarmel hopes Elsie Barton didn't see the story about his dating Marian Saunders; swears it isn't so . . . Dick Haymes is recording three of brother Bob's songs . . . Edith Adams follows Lillian Roth into the Persian Room.

Jackie Gleason picked up a $15 parking ticket on his brand new car . . . In '59 you'll win N. Y.-to-Miami by jet in 110 minutes . . . Fred Chandler took a bag of quarters into Fred Chiaventone's and talked to the ex-Mrs. Ted Williams in Coral Gables for an hour . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Phil Leeds sighs at the Bon Soir. "I want to see the Grand Canyon — and the day I got there it was closed."

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Asian Alliance in Trouble

WASHINGTON — The impending conference of the Southeast Asia defense alliance is already in hot water.

Although this SEATO parley doesn't convene until March 6 in Karachi, Pakistan, it is already confronted with two ominous situations which are so explosive that it's touch-and-go whether they can be kept in check until then.

These urgent backstage dilemmas are as follows: Laos has asked the U. S., and the other seven SEATO allies, if they will provide military forces — ground troops and planes — to combat an anticipated Communist uprising this Spring.

Cambodia has notified the SEATO powers that it no longer wants their protection against Communist aggression. Coming on the heels of Cambodia's recent signing of a friendship pact with Red China, this latest backstage development is, in effect, the final alignment with the neutralist bloc, headed by India.

Laos is not "demanding" SEATO military forces. This small country, wedged between Red-ruled North Vietnam and Cambodia, is not a member of SEATO, but is under its protection. For that purpose, Laos is receiving weapons from the U. S., and can ask for military forces to resist aggression. That's what the Laotian government has done "informally."

The Communist threat there is strong and urgent. Red guerrillas already control two northern provinces, and are being trained and armed in adjoining Communist Vietnam. All indications point to a planned and organized offensive in the Spring, in the guise of a rebellion against the Laotian government.

It's the old story all over again of what has been tragically happening in Indochina in the past years.

Secretary of State Dulles, who heads the U. S. delegation to the SEATO conference, has notified Laos that its "inquiry" will be considered there. In the meanwhile, as a temporary expedient, the Defense Department is speeding up the delivery of weapons to Laos.

The big question is whether the Communists will wait for the SEATO parley. They may strike before it acts.

Laos reports an increasingly belligerent attitude by both the native guerrillas and the Communist regime in Northern Vietnam. The latter's radio in Hanoi is now openly threatening attacks against Laos. The Reds may be on the verge of launching the offensive they have been clearly mounting.

Officials of the State and Defense Departments are frankly baffled by the problem of Cambodia going completely neutralist. It has been receiving U. S. military and economic aid, and Premier Prince Norodom Sihanouk professes continued cordiality to the West. But he has notified the U. S. and other SEATO allies that Cambodia no longer wants their military protection; thus, in effect, renouncing this alliance.

The Rector's adult study class, continuing in the Life of Christ, has reached the portion of the Gospel record concerning the last week of Jesus' earthly life, which will be studied during the Lenten season.

Voting members of Our Savior's Congregation will hold a very important meeting on Thursday at 8 p.m., in the pastor's study. Pastor A. G. Webbeking of the Mission Board of the Lutheran Church will attend the meeting.

Our Savior's Church is continuing its special Lenten meditations on Wednesday evenings, and the meditation for this week is "He was numbered with the transgressors." The services begin at 7:30 p.m.

How To Clothe Your Job With Glory

I heard the other day of a boy who needed a job very badly. There was a good job advertised and he started out early that morning to see if he could get it.

When he got to the address in the advertisement, he found twenty boys waiting in line ahead of him. But that didn't stump him.

He took out a pad and pencil, scribbled a hasty note, folded it, and handed it to the secretary of the man who was doing the hiring. He told her it was important that her boss see it at once. She was convinced by his manner and brought it in to her employer.

He opened the note and read: "I'm the twenty-first kid in line. Don't do anything until you see me."

Here, obviously, was a boy who was alert, eager, imaginative, and self-confident. He got the job.

Henry Kaiser comes to our church from time to time, and recently he sent me a copy of a speech he had made to a graduating class. He had advised those young people to do some interesting things. For example, he told them to cultivate energy and enthusiasm.

In the Kaiser organization, he said, when a new project is started they like to give it to a man who sees all its difficulties and yet is enthusiastic about it. The man who says, "It's a great idea, but I'm not sure it can be done," doesn't get the job. The assignment goes to the man who says, "It's a great idea; I'll have the time of my life doing it."

You can clothe any job, even the most mundane, in glory if you have enthusiasm for it. For enthusiasm can transform the most dreary obligation into a crusade. And life should be a crusade. No human being need say, "I'm just an ordinary person doing an ordinary job." There are no ordinary people — and there are no ordinary jobs. There is only one way things can be ordinary — and this is if you think so. Take whatever you are doing, however menial, however simple, and surround it, suffuse it with enthusiasm, and you will make a great job of it and do much better. You will find that you really begin to live.

A friend of mine got into a taxi in New York the other day and noticed, on the ledge behind the rear seat, a complete assortment of the latest magazines and an open box of cleansing tissues. He asked the driver about them.

"Oh, I keep those for my passengers," the cabbie said. "They're the latest magazines, too, not old ones like you find in barber shops or doctors' waiting rooms. I used to be a traveling man and I remember how many times I would have welcomed some light reading to take my mind off my problems. So, when I became a taxi driver I decided I'd make it different, and I put the magazines and some other things in for my passengers."

Here was a man who was making his job something special. He was enthusiastic; he was the

Roberta Linn Supercharges Favorite Song Selections for Smash Hit at Chi Chi

By HILLY CRAWFORD

Black-eyed Beauty Roberta Linn opened this week at the Chi Chi in an act especially tailored for her by Charles O'Curran, one that demonstrates the amazing versatility of her rich, warm voice. It's like a pianist played a chromatic scale across the keyboard, for she sings melodies that range from "rock and roll" to spiritual.

Roberta had an uncle named Al Dubin who belongs in the hit parade of America's best-loved song writers, and she sings many of his melodies. "I'm Dancing with Tears in My Eyes," "I Only Have Eyes for You," "Forty Second Street" and "Lullaby of Broadway" are some of the songs. They already pack a nostalgic appeal but Roberta supercharges them in her own vibrant style.

"Rock and Roll Waltz" has an especial impact and no one does "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing" better.

The slim and shapely singer makes her entrance wearing a sensational ball gown of pale pink. It looks like Loper, but is actually the creation of Roberta's mother Madge (Hammond) Linn, who has been making costumes for her talented daughter since she was singing and dancing on the Orpheum circuit at the age of three.

Three years later, Roberta had her own package show at the Million Dollar Theater in Los Angeles.

Around 1936, the child actress appeared as Olivia DeHavilland's young sister in "Anthony Adverse." She was almost killed in a night scene when the horses, drawing the carriage in which she was riding, were frightened by a torch. The horses ran away and overturned the carriage spilling the child out and knocking her unconscious.

During her childhood the little actress appeared in what she estimates as around 100 films. This was long before she became the darling of TV.

Many know her best for her appearances on the Lawrence Welk show and this was a busy time for her mother, too, for Roberta never wore the same gown twice. In one year her mother made her 52 gowns, one a week.

A frequent visitor to Palm Springs, which she considers a kind of second home, Roberta made many friends here last season, when she sang at the City of Hope dinner.

The new show, in which she is the headlined star, opened at Chi Chi Wednesday evening to a packed house and will have a 9-day run. When she leaves here she will go to Nevada to fulfill her second Las Vegas engagement. She opens at The Sands on March 14 with Martin and Lewis.

Many think that this girl with the warm smile, infectious friendliness, and superb voice is destined for stellar heights.

Part of the appeal of Roberta Linn is the faith which she evidences when she sings the beautiful spiritual "You Look Up to Him, and He'll Smile Down at You." She wrote it herself.

Plays Can Compete for Awards

Trustees of the James D. Phelan Awards have announced the members of a Jury of Award who will determine the winning candidates for the Phelan Awards in Drama for 1956. They are Fred O. Harris, chairman of the Department of Dramatic Art at the University of California, Dan Totheroh, well-known playwright, and J. Fenton McKenna, in charge of dramatics at San Francisco State College.

The three awards of $500, $400 and $300 were provided in a bequest made by the late Senator Phelan, to bring about further development of native talent in California in various fields of literature and art.

The awards, offered this year in the field of drama, are open to men and women who were born in California, and who are between 20 and 40 years old. They are required to enter plays, full length or one acts, on or before the closing date of March 15, 1956.

Applications and additional information may be obtained from the office of the James D. Phelan Awards, 812 Grant Building, San Francisco, 3, California.

Nursery School Age Right to Study Foreign Language

By JERRY MANTER

United Press Staff Correspondent
HARTFORD, Conn. — "Bonjour, me enfants," the teacher said. "Comment allez-vous?" "Tres bien, merci," the class replied.

And very well it was doing too. For this is not a college or high school French class. It is the daily routine at a nursery school operated by St. Joseph in West Hartford.

The language project for four-year-olds now is in its 10th month. It is believed the only one of its kind in the country, according to Sister Mary de Lourdes, head of the college's child study department.

"Research shows that the child's ability to learn languages is keenest up to the age of six," she said. "After that, it tapers off. It is foolish not to take advantage of this period."

As any parent knows, toddlers soak up all kinds of information. Languages come easy because the small children are not self-conscious and are clever mimics.

"These children won't forget," said the sister. "And they pronounce better than some high school pupils."

Five children learn about 100 words, four songs and three or four games using French phrases. Their teacher, Jean Healy, gets their attention usually by saying, "I have some surprises for you." Then she produces various objects which the tots identify in French.

In French, the teacher says, "Robert, say to me, 'here is the book.'" Dutifully, Robert answers "Voici le livre."

And so the class goes, but rarely for more than 15 minutes. When the children start to squirm, teacher takes the hint and says, "Au revoir."

Sister Mary considers the experiment successful, even though the children probably won't resume their language studies until they are in high school.

"They'll learn that people are different," she said. "It is a valuable lesson in human relations."

Teacher Healy confessed she often has the same problem as other teachers — keeping ahead of her pupils. She was caught off balance recently when one four-year-old asked her the French word for gooseberry.

Hawaiian Luncheon Nets $2500

The garden around the pool at the Max Grone home at 447 West Via Escuela, was the beautiful setting for the Hawaiian luncheon given Thursday by the Women's Division of the United Jewish Welfare Fund.

More than sixty guests attended the affair which netted between $2500 and $3000.

A dynamic talk by Mrs. Kurt Laemmle was enthusiastically received. The noted traveler and business woman said that if American Jewry doesn't help Jews in other parts of the world they will lose their self-respect and the respect of others.

She said, too, that she was uncritical of the fact that the United States has sent arms to Arabia but that it is difficult to understand how this country can be so apathetic about assisting Israel. Here, she said, is the one democracy, which is trying to uphold democracy in the Middle East.

Lenten Tea on Tuesday

The second in a series of Lenten Teas will be given by the Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, February 28, 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Elaine Elser, 1189 Tamarisk Road.

Co-hostesses will be Meses. Harrison Leussler, Murry March, Ida Moshier, Kenneth White, W. A. Blondon and Samuel Kelsey. The Reverend William A. Blondon Jr. will be the speaker.

Recent houseguests at the Donald Wexler home were Bob Rose and Bob Perkovitz of Los Angeles. On Saturday the Wexlers entertained their guests with a dinner at the Ranch Club.

The successful money-raising event was under the capable chairmanship of Mrs. Abe Schwartz, assisted by Mrs. Karp.

Traditional Purim Ball This Evening

Tonight, Saturday, the Seventh Annual Purim Ball will be held at the Jewish Community Center, 332 West Alejo Road, at 8 p.m., climaxed by the crowning of Queen Esther.

No detail or effort is being spared to make this affair a super gala and festive event. Entertainment will be furnished throughout the evening with dancing to the music of Mike Ortiz's orchestra, games, excitement, and with everything geared for fun and frolic. Ending an exciting popularity contest will be the pronouncement and crowning of Queen Esther. A noted celebrity will preside at the coronation. The contestants in the race are Mary Lou Ruskin, Madelyn Jalof, Marilee Singer and Bernice Kerzin, prominent young ladies of the younger set.

Serving the refreshment committee as co-chairmen are Mesdames George Gillman, Hyman Horvitz and Abe Schwartz, assisted by Mesdames Louis Richman, Henry Birns, and Joe Wasserman. Baking the famous delicacies of the Festival are Mesdames Bessie Litman, Max Holtzman, Anne Karp, Irwin Coulton, Phil Zanzville, Harry Pitts, Bessie Goldberg, Joseph Fahn and Harry Haimowitz. Abe Schwartz and Mrs. Saul Ruskin are general chairmen of the affair with Mrs. Max Grone on the general committee.

Merriment and gaiety will be the keynote of the Ball and a cordial invitation to attend is extended to everyone. The many hard-working members of the various committees urge all to come to the Jewish Community Center for a wonderful evening of pleasure at the Purim Ball. Costumes are suggested but are optional.

Purringtons Have Guests

Rear Admiral Henry Pitts (USN Ret.) and Mrs. Pitts were the guests Tuesday of Commander Benjamin C. Purrington (USN Ret.) and Mrs. Purrington. The Purringtons have recently taken up residence in Rancho Mirage, where they plan to spend at least three months before going to Bainbridge Island, Washington, for the summer.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Patent Office

NEW YORK (AP) — Fearless Fraley's Facts and Figures: Equal rights mean a lot of things to a lot of people but one of the most poignant interpretations comes from one of the basketball players at Niagara University.

It is the custom of Taps Gallagher, the Niagara court coach, to hire a sight-seeing bus and take his team on a tour of the cities in which it plays. This, Taps figures rightly, also is a part of the school's educational curriculum.

Thus when the team plays in Boston it gets to see Old North Church; in Philadelphia it can absorb the atmosphere of Independence Hall and in New York it ganders such as Grant's Tomb, etc.

SO WHEN THE team went to Washington, Taps took the boys to such places as the Capitol and the Washington monument. Eventually, they wound up at the Lincoln Memorial and Taps was standing in front of the statue of Lincoln, serene in his great marble armchair, when Tom Hemans, his six foot, seven inch Negro star, tapped Gallagher on the shoulder and pointing up to Lincoln's statue, said in all seriousness:

"Coach, there's the man who got us into the National Invitation basketball tournament the last two years."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY: Today, Bobby Riggs 38, Monte Irvin 35; Henry Ransom 45 and Andy Pafko 35; Monday, Gene Sarazen 54 and Rube Melton 39; Wednesday, Pepper Martin 52; Thursday, Al Rosen 31 and Max Bentley 36; Friday, Mel Ott 47, Mort Cooper 42, Moe Berg 54 and Jim Konstanty 39.

Boxing is supposed to be filled with double-dealing characters—and let it be said here that it certainly is—but Johnny Saxton tabs welterweight champion Carmen Basilio as a man of his word.

That was all Saxton had, Basilio's word, when Jarvin Johnny stepped aside to let Basilio take a crack at Tony DeMarco and then defend against the Bostonite. So Saxton, boxing reputations being what they deservedly are, acknowledges deep gratitude that Carmen will meet him with the title at stake in Chicago on March 14.

ARNOLD SOWELL, the Pitt Olympic hopeful, has a real tough night cut out for him this evening in the ICAA championships at Madison Square Gardens. He'll try the broad jump and then will run the 1000-yard event heat and final as well as anchor the Panther two-mile relay team, which also faces a heat and final. To "save" his energy, he'll only take one leap in the broad jump and his best effort this winter, 22 feet, 11½ inches in an event which is a "time waster," is good enough to win his third gold medal of the evening.

If you want to see Swaps and Nashua in the event they renew their feud in the Gulfstream Park Handicap at Florida's Gulfstream Park on March 17 you'd better be certain that you have some place to stay the night.

Hotels in the area are flooded. On one day this week, the Gulfstream management received calls from 17 states, as far away as Minnesota, asking about the event and demanding "stall space."

And I wish somebody would pick me a winner!

See Record Gate for Heavy Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hollywood Legion Stadium matchmaker Jack Leonard predicted today the middleweight title fight between Champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Carl Bobo Olson here April 20 will draw a gross gate of over $200,000, thus setting a new California record for outdoor bouts.

Leonard, who said the Legion is co-promoting the Wrigley Field fight with the International Boxing Commission, disclosed a sellout would attract 33,000 and would boost the gross gate to $430,000.

"We're shooting for a quarter of a million," Leonard said, "and even if we only get half of what it's scaled for, we'll break the California record. I expect between $200,000 and $250,000."

The California record was set by Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title defense against Don Cockell in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium last May. That fight drew a gross gate of $196,720.

Delgado 10 to 8 in Randle Bout

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two of California's better young featherweights, Vince Delgado of Los Angeles and Nannu Randle of Oakland, square off in tonight's scheduled 10-round, locally-televised, main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Delgado, unbeaten in 12 starts, was expected to step into the ring as a 10-8 favorite. Randle is a protégé of John L. Davis, former Pacific Coast lightweight champion, and boasts an 18-4-3 record.

INDIANS SCORE 13TH STRAIGHT WIN

Down Perris in Last Game by 77 to 52

Win Gives Redskins 13-1 Record In RCL Basketball

By DAVID FISHER

With the championship already sewed up, the Palm Springs Indians last night coasted to a 77-52 victory over the winless Perris Panthers to bring to a close the most successful Riverside County League basketball campaign in the history of the school.

The win gave the Indians an amazing 13-1 record for league play and served as a primer for the Redmen's big C.I.F. opener against Citrus on Tuesday night.

Charles Jordan, the local's lengthy center, continued his one man bucket brigade, pushing in 35 markers to give him a total for the year of 363, the highest individual season total the league has on record.

GIVING THE INDIANS a big assist was O. B. Crawford, their rebounding forward who scored in double digits for the second time this year. It was far his best effort, as he bucketed 15 points and grabbed almost as many rebounds.

Perris didn't look like a last place team against Palm Springs. They pushed the Indians in the first half, but showed the effects of the break-neck pace after the intermission and, to the dismay of the hometown fans, let the warriors height and fast break take its toll.

THE OPENING MINUTES of the tilt saw the Panthers jump off to their only lead of the game on a two pointer by Bob Harper. After good shooting by both squads the score was knotted at 8-8 and then the Indian attack began. Ralph Watt's high frequency charges grabbed a commanding 20-10 edge at the end of the opening period.

In the second stanza Perris matched Palm Springs basket for basket and at quarters end each club had amassed 23 points. Leading the Indians in this scoring duel was Jordan who accounted for 15 points, while the Panthers featured the play of their ace forward, Fondreaux.

IN SECOND HALF ACTION Watt kept many of his first stringers on the bench, but Palm Springs was still able to stretch its third period lead to 63-40. From then on the Indians were able to ease home for a 77-52 triumph.

The resort hoopers upped their R.C.L. scoring to 919, by far more than any other team in this loop has ever boasted. This figures out to an unbelievable 65.6 average.

The Palm Springs B team also ended the season on the right foot, disposing of a mediocre Perris quintet 63-48. The victory gives the Papooses an 8-6 win and lost record and the league's fourth place berth.

TAKING HOME high scoring honors for the local light weights was Curtis Roberts. The captain of the reservation B's hit for 19 points and sparked the Palm Springs defense.

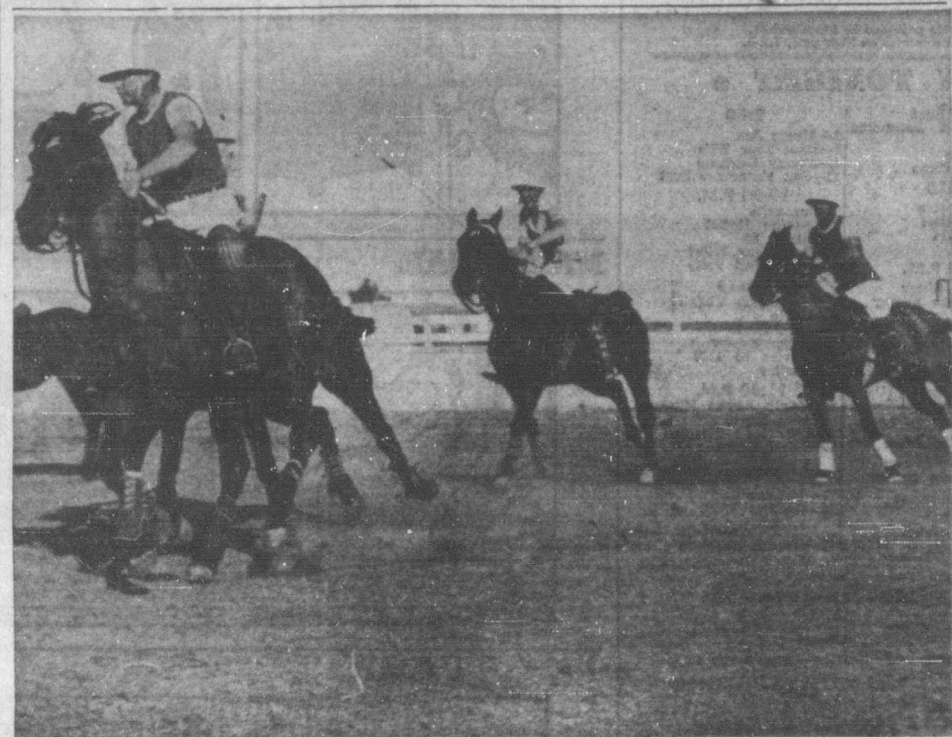

Eddie Tarr and Charles Brown both had good nights to give Roberts an assist in the scoring column. Tarr collected 16 and Brown shot for 13.

Tuesday night Palm Springs will face the defending C.I.F. champion Citrus Cougars in the local gym, opening 1956 play-off competition. It should be the Indians toughest test of the season and a huge crowd is expected to be on hand when these two high scoring teams get together.

Sign with Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pitchers Lew Burdette, who won 13 and lost 8 in 1955, and Ernie Johnson, who posted a 5-7 record, have signed their 1956 contracts with the Milwaukee Braves, who now have 36 players under contract.

SPORTS in the SUN

10-GOAL CHAMPIONSHIP. Pacific Coast matches, played today and tomorrow at the Polo Grounds and Shadow Mountain Stables in games to decide 1956 champions, will feature action such as this. Defending champions from San Bernardino, dark shirts, and host Shadow Mountain Polo Club battle for possession after a hard smash during first chukka last weekend. Red Diamonds, playing their final match today, are destined for top honors with a win against third place San Bernardino. (Lee Wenzlick Photo)

DUBS CURIOUS ABOUT IKE'S LENGTHY DRIVE

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story is written primarily for the thousands of once-a-week golfers who swell with pride when they hit a drive over 150 yards.

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press White House Writer
THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — It seems that President Eisenhower isn't having enough trouble with his heart attack and the second term.

People are now challenging the fact that the chief executive, a 65-year-old recuperative cardiac patient, has been belting out drives of 230 and 240 yards on the local golf course.

A recent letter to the United Press asks in behalf of thousands of golfers whether "he plays on concrete course, has special golf balls or clubs or what the man has that even the professionals struggle to attain without always making it?"

IN THE FIRST PLACE, the envious golfers of the nation should understand that the most publicized holes played by Mr. Eisenhower on any course, are the first and 18th holes. Reporters see him play only these holes entirely because the White House discourages following him for a full round.

Here at the Glen Arven Country Club course, the first hole is a case in point. The par-four hole is 440 yards almost straight down hill.

The President on Wednesday skied his first ball into the woods and on his Mulligan second shot optional on the first tee he wheeled a solid one straight down the fairway where it stopped just short of the 250-yard marker. Reporters clocked the distance at 240 yards.

SLICE AND HOOK

THURSDAY on the same hole, the President put his first three drives into the woods with a slice and two hooks. Then he belted the fourth one dead center for about 230 yards.

The rest of the 18th hole game Thursday was a nightmare for the President who finished with a nine for the hole. He had trouble on the green and three-putted. Total score? A national secret, but it was somewhere in the middle nineties.

Webster and his wife, Marion, will also serve double duty while in the Village. Their Lancia Spider is one of the more than 40 cars entered in the Concours d'Elegance at El Mirador.

THE LANCIA, a 1956 convertible with a V-6 engine and many luxury appointments, will be on concourse display for the first time in the Village.

It is the same car that was described in The Desert Sun on the sport page January 3.

The sport car weekend promises to be big for Palm Springs; what with actress Marguerite Chapman awarding prizes to the winners; Earle Grace, president of the Palm Springs Sport Car Club, throwing the doors of his agency, Nick Pastor Imported Cars, open to all entrants for tune-up; Raymond Loewy, the in-

Too Late for Santee to Get into Olympiad

Changes in Code Planned But Won't Help Mile Star

NEW YORK (AP)—Any changes in the amateur code for track may come too late to help suspended Wes Santee get to the Olympics, but that's the next subject to be investigated by the national AAU's "secret seven" committee.

Pincus Sober, chairman of the committee, said the group will turn "soon" to interviews with various sports leaders about their ideas on possible changes in the amateur rules.

Sober, New York attorney who also is chairman of the AAU track committee, said the "secret seven" will ask meet directors, college athletic directors, athletes, and newsmen for advice on possible changes. The group may make a preliminary report to the AAU's executive committee in June.

"HOWEVER, our next report isn't due until the annual meeting of the AAU next November," said Sober.

Sober said this new action would be a fulfillment of the second purpose for which the committee was set up by the national AAU convention last January. The first was to study all matters pertaining to the Santee case and report to the AAU's executive committee. The second was to study all present divisions of the general rules of the AAU pertaining to amateurism.

THE RESULT of the first part was that Santee, America's fastest miler in history, was suspended for life last Saturday on charges of accepting excessive expense money.

As for the second part, Sober said the committee was asked "to recommend specific procedure to be followed by local district registration committees and the national AAU so that they may maintain supervision and control of all sponsored events from their inception."

Some observers thought it possible that this study might result in a setting of new expense standards—possibly so high that Santee's might not have been excessive under them.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Loprete, a rookie outfielder-first baseman from Boston College, has been signed by the Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League, it was announced today.

Baseball Tickets to be Available at 3 Locations

Three location where spring training game tickets will be sold were designated today by Don Bottorff, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who are in charge of sales.

Bottorff said the 13 training games the San Diego Padres will play here, starting March 16, may be seen by a general audience for $1 a ticket.

The three sales spots are Sportsman Center, 1063 North Palm Canyon Drive; Nelson's Oasis Men's Shop, 115 South Palm Canyon Drive; and Ramon Drug, 454 South Indian Avenue.

Bottorff announced too that a schedule change has been made pursuant to a cancellation for the Sacramento Solons game set for April 7.

He said the Navy Skyriders will replace the Solons and that this game, and the one between the Padres and the University of Southern California will have open gates.

There will be no admission for those two games, in other words. The USC game is set for March 26, immediately following the contest between the Padres and the Cleveland Indians.

Low Card of 53 in O'Donnell Play

A low score of 53, stroked as a best-ball average at O'Donnell Golf Club this week by Reuben H. Fleet, William B. Hyde, Harold Hicks and A. R. Wuest, was two strokes better than the second place foursome, and good for the regular choose-up trophy.

The second place foursome, with 55, was Edward H. Peterson, Earle C. Strebe, Jack Kenaston and William Calvert.

Dons, Bruins Win Streaks Continue on

San Francisco U. Racks Up 47th Straight Victory

By JAMES C. O'NEILL

United Press Sports Writer
USF and UCLA kept their win streaks unbroken last night as the "Big Two" of Pacific Coast basketball powerhouse to new scoring records.

The Dons scored their biggest point output of the season by belting the Santa Clara Broncos 80-44 to notch their 47th consecutive victory. Previously the Hilltoppers scored 79 points against LaSalle and Fresno State.

UCLA's Willie Naulls, the leading Pacific Coast Conference scorer, set a new all-time Bruin season record of 480 points; hitting for 28 in the PCC 95-71 defeat of the Oregon Ducks.

The Dons' walkover of Santa Clara marked their 10th straight California Basketball Association win.

Naulls needed only 18 points to tie the former Bruin season mark of 470 set in 1951 by Dick Ridgway. The Bruin center went on to net nine field goals and 10 charities, although he played only half the game.

California kept its second spot in the PCC rivalry by downing Washington 74-62. Cal. 9-2 never trailed.

Stanford's short but aggressive quintet edged Washington State 81-76 on the Cougars' home ground. At Corvallis, Ore., the Idaho Vandals, at the bottom of the PCC barrel, scored a minor upset by defeating Oregon State 58-55, putting both teams in a tie for last with a 2-11 record apiece.

SAM SEZ:

HONEST FOLKS! — My last Saturday's ad brought me in so many prospects I can't handle them all alone, and I'm still busy on deals from it, so I won't list anything this week until we clear up the slate. Watch for my next Saturday's ad on my best investments in lots and acreage. OUR 25 years experience in the Valley helps us choose investments for you which we can turn to a good profit for you. Make "The Desert Realty Co." your investment guide — it's better and more sure than the stock market. Capital gains give you most profit. Your interest on long term purchases are deductible from income tax, while the yearly increase in value exceeds this interest rate by double and often as high as 20 to 50%. Millionaires are among our clients as well as ambitious young people who will live to see great things here. Come in and let's talk over investments — there's no charge. You don't have to buy. Ask for our record on what we have done for others. Is that fair? Remember, here before your eyes is arising a new smogless Los Angeles and Hollywood by the same kind of people who made the first smogless Los Angeles — which is a thing of the past. Here we build again a dream city in God's fresh air and sunshine which will become the refuge of all who love life, providing our board of County Supervisors wake up and enact county laws now, that will bar bad investments and encourage only clean ones. Let's get these laws now — or elect people who will get them for us!

Neff's Partner Summoned in Campaign Gift Inquiry

By UNITED PRESS
Senate investigators today summoned oil lobbyist John M. Neff's Nebraska law partner to testify next week regarding the now-famed campaign contribution of $250,000 to the South Dakota Republican senator during the natural gas controversy.

Neff offered the $250,000 contribution to the South Dakota Republican senator during the natural gas controversy.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga.), chairman of the blue-ribbon committee investigating the case incident, said he signed two subpoenas for the committee's wind-up hearings, scheduled to begin Tuesday. Another source identified one of those subpoenaed as Neff's law partner, Paul J. Gerdes.

A new, eight member bi-partisan committee was scheduled to meet, probably Wednesday, to conduct a wide-range investigation of improper or illegal lobbying or campaign contributions.

Other congressional news:

PLANES: Rep. F. Edward Herbert (D-La.) claims the taxpayers are helping pay "fabulous" salaries to some retired generals and admirals who don't do anything. He demanded that the salaries—paid to the high-ranking former servicemen by airplane manufacturers who get most of their business from the government—be "brought into the open."

SOCIAL SECURITY: Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) and 45 other senators sponsored legislation to increase the government's share of benefits for aged, needy persons 185 million dollars a year. Long said the measure would boost welfare payments by $5 to $7 a month to more than 2.5 million aged persons.

UN-AMERICAN: Washington attorney Jacob H. Krug, a former employee of the National Labor Relations Board, denied in testimony before a House subcommittee on Un-American activities that he is now a Communist. However, he invoked the Fifth Amendment to avoid testifying whether he ever was a Communist.

Ike Heads for Washington and the Big Decision

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower, after an 11-day holiday in south Georgia, flies back to Washington today to come to final grips with one of the most important decisions of his life—whether to seek re-election or retire.

Mr. Eisenhower had no scheduled appointments at the White House this afternoon, but he probably will spend some time in conference with such staff members as Sherman Adams, the assistant to the president, and other officials in his inner circle.

The President, according to the latest indications, was expected to announce his political intentions some time next week, although he was not publicly committed to a specific date. He has a news conference tentatively scheduled for next Wednesday, but the hour has not been set.

Many of the President's friends and political adherents were more convinced than ever that he would consent to running again. More evidence to this effect was available in Washington GOP circles than in Thomasville.

Dulles' Stand Called 'Absurd'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats today called Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement that western unity has caused Russia to change its policies "almost absurd."

They also took issue with his explanation of the shipment of 18 U.S. tanks to Saudi Arabia and his plea to keep the Arab-Israeli dispute out of election-year politics.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.) said Russia is shifting its policies to "supplement what they have done before." He called Dulles' reason for the shift "almost absurd."

Sen. John J. Sparkman, (D-Ala.), called Dulles' statement "hard to believe." Both are members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which Dulles appeared before for nearly four hours Friday.

Humphrey also complained that Dulles left unsettled "what is going to be done to protect Israel's territorial sovereignty." He said he isn't "satisfied" with Dulles' testimony regarding the Middle East dispute.

Committee Chairman Walter F. George, (D-Ga.), said the Arab-Israeli dispute "can't" be kept out of the 1956 campaign. Dulles told the committee that Russia's 30-year-old Stalinist policies of violence and intolerance against non-Soviet governments have "failed."

Sex Degenerate Hunted in L.A. Torture Attack

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A sex degenerate was sought today after he savagely assaulted and tortured a Beverly Hills dentist's wife who managed to escape from him earlier in the month, police reported.

Mrs. Shirley Gerstel, 33, mother of five, was rushed to Hollywood Receiving Hospital yesterday after being bound, criminally assaulted and tortured in her home.

Officers said the fiend was the same person Mrs. Gerstel fought off Feb. 3 after he attempted to assault her but was stopped with a well placed kick.

Mrs. Gerstel said the attacker, about 25, jabbed her repeatedly with a stick which had a nail attached to it. She said she fell unconscious when he kicked her.
